Message

I welcome the publication of the report "Crime in India" for the year 2017 by National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB). The present edition is an outcome of a series of steps taken by NCRB to meet the emerging data requirements. The report is comprehensive, informative and I am sure that it will be useful for all the stakeholders, including policy-makers, States / Union Territories, Researchers and Academicians. It is the principal reference document for crime statistics in India.

2. I convey my compliments to all the States and Union Territories for furnishing the required information for this publication. I also convey my appreciation to Director, NCRB and his team for collecting, compiling and preparing this report.
