FOREWORD

It is my proud privilege to bring out the 66th edition of "Crime in India" for the year 2018, an annual publication of National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) since 1953. This publication contains detailed statistical information on the crime scenario of the country.

Nature and methods of committing crime is changing rapidly in society. The use of sophisticated technology by criminals makes the situation even more complex. This poses a serious challenge to the law enforcement agencies, policy makers and other stakeholders of the criminal justice system. Consequently, it is of vital importance to make this data available to investigating agencies so that they can examine the causes, emerging trends and patterns of crime and can prepare crime prevention strategies accordingly. Following comprehensive revision of proformae, NCRB has collected crime data with greater granularity with the aim of addressing these data requirements of various stakeholders.

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the heads of all State & UT Police Departments and the State Crime Records Bureau/CIDs/Anti-Corruption agencies of the States/UTs for their efforts and valuable support in sending data as per the prescribed formats and its validation / removal of inconsistencies.

I also take this opportunity to record my appreciation of the hard work done by the officers and staff of the Statistical Branch of the Bureau in collecting and finalizing crime data and bringing out this report in a short time, which indeed was a herculean task. With this, two editions of the CII report i.e. CII-2017 and CII-2018, have been published this year.

Like the previous years, the publication is available in digital form and it can be freely downloaded by all the stakeholders by accessing our website <http://ncrb.gov.in>.

It is hoped that the publication will be found useful by Policy makers, Administrators, Law Enforcement Agencies, Criminologists, Research Scholars, Media and Public. Suggestions and feedback for further improvement in content and quality of the publication are solicited.
