FOREWORD

It is my proud privilege to present the 67th edition of the “Crime in India”, the most comprehensive set of statistics on crime for the year 2019. This is an annual publication of National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB), being published since 1953.

Change is an inevitable consequence of societal progression and neither people nor institutions are immune from its influence. Increased population, technological advancements and heightened competition for economic resources have brought about change in crime and its pattern as well and this has thrown new challenges to the law enforcement agencies. Consequently, crime statistics becomes an important resource base to effectively prepare for and manage the challenges for positive outcomes.

The general objective of the report is to help develop insights into the extent of crime for use in law enforcement, operation, research and management. The data provided by the report over the years has become one of the country’s most sought after statistics.

Over the years, the Bureau has identified the needs of the key stakeholders within the Criminal Justice System and the wider research community and has improved the publications to provide appropriate information on crime statistics. The report has been prepared to provide data to various criminologists, sociologists, legislators, municipal planners, the media, and other students of criminal justice for varied research and planning purposes.

As we are beholden, the assistance and support of the heads of all State & UT Police Departments, Directors of SCRBx/CIDs and their staff in furnishing the data even in the difficult situation in the country due to COVID-19 is greatly acknowledged.

I also take this opportunity to appreciate the work done by all the officials and staff of the Statistical Branch in collecting and compiling the data and bringing out the publication in the stipulated time.

Like the previous publications, Crime in India-2019 is available in digital format and is freely downloadable by accessing our website <http://ncrb.gov.in>.

Suggestion or feedback for further improvement in content and quality of the report would be greatly appreciated.
