FOREWORD

It is indeed a matter of great pride and satisfaction for NCRB to present 70th edition of our annual 'Crime in India' report, which contains an exhaustive set of crime statistics pertaining to the year 2022. Since its first publication in the year 1953, the report has been providing crime statistics for a wide array of national and international stakeholders including policy makers, law enforcement agencies and researchers.

Crime, as a phenomenon, encompasses a range of behaviors that deviate from established legal norms within a given society. It represents actions that transgress the boundaries set by laws and regulations, posing a threat to the safety, well-being, and order in communities. Furthermore, with technological advancements, the patterns of crime are rapidly changing. The statistics presented in the report will be utilized by State/UT Police and Law Enforcement Agencies to predict such crime trends, which will enable them to adapt to these new challenges.

This report is a testament to the collaboration between State Crime Records Bureau/CID of States/UTs and National Crime Records Bureau. The timely publication of the report is a result of cooperation extended by States/UTs, by timely sharing of data with NCRB. The Bureau, therefore, is grateful to the Heads of States/UTs Police, Directors of SCRBx/CID and their teams for their effort and dedication towards our shared goal of timely publication of the comprehensive report.

I take this opportunity to appreciate the collective effort of the Officers and Staff of Statistical Branch, NCRB for their unwavering commitment and dedication in collation and compilation of the data for the report.

As in previous years, we are happy to share that the report is available in a digital format, ensuring convenient and widespread access for all stakeholders. This digital version of the report can be easily accessed by visiting our official website <https://ncrb.gov.in>.

The Bureau would greatly appreciate any suggestions and feedback for further improvement in content and quality of the publication.
