FOREWORD

It is indeed my privilege to present the 26th edition of our annual report "Prison Statistics India" for the year 2020. The report contains comprehensive statistics on a range of aspects related to prisons which will be of immense help to all policymakers, researchers, Parliamentarians, national and international stakeholders.

Prisons in earlier times were often seen as places for confining criminals in order to protect the society from crime and criminals. But now the approach towards the prisons has transformed from being retributive in nature to more of restorative where the offenders are treated in a manner so as to assure that the criminality of criminals, and in turn crime, can be removed from society.

NCRB has come a long-way to become the nodal agency to provide statistics related to the prison inmates and prison administration in the country. The data presented in the report not only covers wide range of aspects of prisons ranging from prison population, prison staff to rehabilitation, but it also promotes the implementation of evidence based correction or reformation policies.

I gratefully acknowledge the cooperation and effort extended by Director General/Inspector General of Prisons of States/UTs in timely submission of data to the Bureau despite ongoing pandemic. The timely publication of the report is a crucial aspect in maintaining the reliability and usefulness of the report.

I take this opportunity to commend and appreciate the efforts put in by the Officials and Staff of Statistics Branch of the Bureau in bringing out the report in stipulated time frame.

Like previous years, the report for the year 2020 is being made available in digital format on our website <https://ncrb.gov.in> and it is freely accessible and downloadable.

We look forward to your suggestions and feedback for improvement in the content and quality of the report. A feedback form is attached at the end of the report.
